

THE IMPORTANCE OF HD CERTIFICATE

The consumption of Halaal food is a requirement for Muslims, and as such, the demand for Halaal certified products is being increased now and then. If you are a business owner obtaining a Halaal certificate can help you to tap into Halaal market and increase revenues. In this article, we will explore the benefits of obtaining a Halaal certificate for your business

Firstly, obtaining a Halaal certificate increases your customer base. By obtaining a Halaal certificate, you are demonstrating to your customers that your products are safe for consumption. This can help you to gain the trust of all types of customers including Muslims because your food is produced in accordance with Shariah (Islamic Law).

Secondly, obtaining a Halaal certificate can help to expand your business internationally. Many countries require Halaal certification for imported products, so if you have a Halaal certificate you can tap into these markets and expand your businesses beyond the borders of Malawi easily. Thirdly, having a Halaal certificate improve your businesses can reputation by increasing brand value. Halaal certificate is rigorous process that requires you to adhere to strict standards and guidelines. By having a Halaal certificate it means you are demonstrating to your customers that you are committed to providing high quality products that are prepared in a responsible and ethical manner. This can help vou differentiate vour business from your competitors and increase your brand value in the eyes of customers Unwrap your business to the world today. Get it certified Halaal by HD the undisputable Halaal certifier!!!

Breakthrough The launching of Halaal Department and The grievances which the Butchermen had Islamic Information Bureau together was were often noticed at the slaughterhouse a big step in revolutionizing the adoption where HD staff were manhandled in order of HD standards in Mzuzu. The Islamic to scare them off from participating in Information Bureau (IIB) became a point slaughtering process. In addition, HD was of contact for Halaal sensitization and the receiving great resistance when it was trying Desk Office for HD clients. Halaal services in Mzuzu began in 2006 to civic educate people on HD standards HD operations expanded after the signing services. However, to solve challenges of the Memorandum of Understanding people who wanted their Business which HD was facing, involved stakeholders to include many other businesses such certified Halaal. Although people wanted signed a Memorandum of Understanding as Restaurants, Supermarkets, Meat Halaal Department (HD) to regulate their (MOU) in 2008. This Memorandum of Processors, food manufacturers etc. From businesses, others were not happy to see agreement brought stakeholders such as that time to date HD has certified as Halaal more than 40 establishments in the resistance from some Butchermen who Veterinary Office, the Malawi Police and the Northern Region of Malawi. feared losing business with the coming Butchermen Association. The MOU assisted The presences of HD services in the region of HD in Mzuzu. Among other things, they a lot in bringing together all concerned have boosted the businesses of HD clients were not happy to see HD monitoring the parties to a round table to discuss and the demand is still getting high. As such HD has issued Halaal certificates in different Departments in Mzuzu. Others were to be sorted out. Among other Mzuzu City and other districts in the region such as Rumphi, Karonga, Mzimba and Nkhata-Bay districts. Furthermore, there were also complaints animals were being hacked by axe before Above all, the abolishment of axe hacking and captive gun stunning to embrace stun go and get animals from far away areas. It to make sure that all animals which were fee slaughter method by the Butchermen at Mzuzu slaughter House is HD's great achievement in the northern region.

UNDERSTANDING E NUMBERS IN FOOD ADDITIVES

E-Numbers represent specific food additives, used by the industry in the manufacture of various food products. These E-Numbers have been formulated by the European Economic Community (EEC) and are universally adopted by the food industry worldwide.

The E-numbers are categorised as follows:

E100-199	Food colours	E900-999 Surface coating agents, gases,
E200-299	Preservatives	sweeteners
E300-399	Antioxidants, phosphates, and complexing agents	E1000-1399 Miscellaneous additives E1400-1499 Starch derivatives
E400-499	Thickeners, gelling agents, phosphates, humectants, emulsifiers	There are few additives which are "always" of animal origin, such as:
E500-599	Salts and related compounds	E120 Cochineal: A red colour obtained from female insects
E600-699	Flavour enhancers

E542 Edible Bone Phosphate: An extract from animal bones

Whilst some additives with a common code such as E471, can be either of animal or plant origin and this latter type needs to be investigated on a case-by-case basis per product/manufacturer.

THE EXAMPLE OF A BELIEVER IS THAT OF A BEE

Sayyiduna 'Abdullah ibn 'Amr reported that he heard Rasulullah (ﷺ) say: "I take an oath in that Being in whose control lies the life of Muhammad (ﷺ), the example of a Believer is that of a bee, it eats wholesome, produces wholesome and when it lands on anything, it does not break nor ruin it [i.e., A Believer should be gentle]

The commentators explain the following reasons for this simile and qualities of a bee which a believer should adopt:

- A bee is skilful/proficient and intelligent.
- A bee rarely causes harm.
- A bee is usually deemed insignificant i.e. A Believer should be living a simple life.
- A bee is content with little.
- A bee works at night i.e. A Believer should be engaging in 'lbadah at night.
- A bee stays away from dirt and is not attracted to repulsive things (like some other insects).
- A bee only eats from flowers that are pure and - wholesome.

- · A bee does not scavenge and consume the food of other bees i.e. A Believer should be eating from his own earnings.
- A bee is subservient to the queen bee i.e. A Believer should be subservient to the Muslim ruler.

A bee sometimes faces challenges and is encountered difficulties (like inclement weather etc). Similarly, a Believer will certainly face challenges in his life; spiritual challenges as well as worldly challenges and trials.

SOME OF THE QUESTION POSED DURING THE YEAR

Q1. Q. The Halaal Industry is too extreme these days. They even certify water. What is the basis of certifying water?

Answer: A. There is nothing mysterious about certifying water. While water in its raw pure form is considered neutral and Halaal, there are factors in the production of bottled water and water treatment processes which can impact on its Halaal status. Different types of water filters are utilised where the filter material can be derived from animal sources. Then there is the use of flavours and additives that could contain non-Halaal constituents.

Q2. When HD states that an establishment is "not certified" by them, "exercise caution" or that "it has no information", does it render the business/product Haraam?

Answer: Indeed, making any declaration of Halaal to Haraam and vice versa is a heinous and unforgivable sin of "shirk" i.e., ascribing partners to Allah. HD's stance has always been one of declaring the truth where we do not have the requisite information to pass a decision. These terminologies do not conclude that the product is Haraam. HD has been adamant and consistent on this stance. It cannot give assurance on a product or business which it has no information and/or oversight.

Q3. Can we eat vegetables which are grown where pigs are reared?

Answer: Vegetables are in principle lawful because all things are lawful unless there is evidence that proves they are forbidden. The fact that these vegetables are planted in a place where pigs are grazed, then if you mean that these vegetables might be stained by some impurities of those animals like their saliva and dung and the like, then if one is sure or predominantly thinks that this is the case, then it is not permissible to eat the vegetables except after washing them and purifying them from this impurity.

However, if you mean fertilizing the land with pig dung, then it is permissible because the impurity is transformed inside the plant, so it becomes pure by transformation. This applies same to urine as well as blood meal fertiliser.

Q4. Some businesses claim to have applied for a Halaal certificate but not yet issued with it. Can I buy from them since they are in process of being certified Halaal?

Answer: Halaal consumers are urged to always patronise businesses that are Halaal certified. Such places can be recognised by looking out for the displayed HD logo and valid HD certificate.

Q6. Is it permissible to eat food that is not labelled "Halaal"?

Answer: Yes, it is permissible to eat food that is not written

HALAAL BRIEFS MAGAZINE • MARCH • APRIL 2023 • RAMADHAN 1444 H

Halaal or without a logo of any Halaal certifying body on them as long as ingredients are known to be Halaal.

Q7. Are there any restrictions on the use of gelatine in Halaal food?

Answer: Yes, gelatine that is derived from pork or other non Halaal sources is not permissible in Halaal food.

Q8. Why does HD not certify supermarkets like Chipiku Plus, Spar and Shoprite despite that many Muslims are patronising there?

Answer: The highest risk category in Halaal certification in terms of the Shariah is the slaughter, processing and sale of meat products, which is intensified with variations on types of meat, the variety of abattoirs, slaughter procedures, logistics and contamination factors. The greatest obstacle in the Halaal certification of such outlets is the presence of pork and other non-Halaal meats as well as beer in the same premises. Such situations are hazardous and accidents waiting to happen. HD declares that under these conditions it is not only impossible but suicidal to grant Halaal certification.

Q9. Some restaurants marinate meat in wine before cooking or braaiing. They do that to soften and make the meat delicious. Is cooking with wine Halaal?

Answer: The fact that alcohol is forbidden in Islam is wellestablished law and no Muslim has any excuse for not knowing it. Consuming alcohol and anything related to it in any amount is one of the major sins that doom a person to Hellfire (Jahannam). This prohibition is mentioned in the Holy Quran where Allah the Almighty says (interpretation of the meaning): "O! You who believe! Intoxicants and gambling, (sacrificing on) stone alters to other than Allah and driving arrows are but defilement from the work of satan, so avoid it that you may be successful."

This prohibition is in general it applies to all manners of using alcohol whether in food or in drink. It is not permissible to use it in anyway whatsoever.

Q10. What is the ruling of eating non Halaal food in emergency?

Answer: In emergences where Halaal food is not available, it is permissible to consume non-Halaal food to prevent harm for survival purposes only.

Q11. Is it permitted to eat at a restaurant where alcohol is served?

Answer: It is impermissible for a believer to eat in a restaurant wherein alcohol is served because you are helping them in transgression and sin. And Allah prohibited that. A believer should exercise maximum precaution in this regard and not purchase from such restaurants.

Jabil reported that the Holy Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said: "Whoever has faith in Allah and the last day let him not sit at a table over which wine is being served. (Tirmidthi 2801)

Q12. I have noticed that some non Halaal certified supermarkets stock many products, which carry the HD logo. kindly clarify.

Answer: With specific reference to meat and meat products, HD strongly discourage the purchasing of meat products from non Halaal certified outlets due to high possibilities of contaminations through handling and storage. This applies to all meat products regardless of the fact that the products may have HD logo or not. Purchase your meat products exclusively from outlets which is Halaal certified by the HD.

Q13. Some non-Governmental organisations are promoting pig rearing farming in our village. They say anyone including

RECOGNIZING THE PORK TERMS IN PRODUCT COMPOSITION

As Muslims, we need to be careful in consuming a product. Choosing products with a Halaal logo certified by HD or any other reputable certifier is the easiest and the best effort to select what will be consumed.

In addition, the consumers can also see a list of ingredients on the packaging or ask HD through the Helpline regarding the ingredients and how the product is made. The following is a summary from various sources related to various pork terms in the composition of products.

- Pig: A young pig, weighing less than 50kg. 1.
- Pork: Meat comes from pig to be cooked. 2.
- 3. Swine: Term for the entire collection of pig species.
- 4. Hog: An adult pig, weighing more than 50kg.
- 5. Boar: A wild boar
- Lard: A semi-solid white fat product obtained by rendering the fatty tissue of the pig to make cooking oil and soap.
- Bacon: Sliced pork. meat, 7.
- Ham: Meat on the thigh of a pork. 8.
- Sow: adult Female hog. 9.
- Sow milk: Pork milk 10.
- Porcine: Something related to or derived from pork, 11. found in many medicines and food

Since there are a lot of pork terms, the Muslim consumers need to be aware of the various products sold in the market. Always be in touch with HD helpline number for product verification.

Whichever the way you cut it, Pork is Haraam!

Muslims can do this type of farming for business purposes is this acceptable?

Answer: It is prohibited for a Muslim to rear or farm pigs even if he intends to sell or trade in them with non-Muslims or those who consume it.

Moreover, it is prohibited to help others in cooking, selling, buying or using pigs in anyway or anything of its ingredients.

This prohibition is in general it applies to all manners of using alcohol whether in food or in drink. It is not permissible to use it in anyway whatsoever.

Q14. I'm a Muslim student at a certain college, am I allowed to carry out lab experiments using pig parts?

Answer: As for using pigs to carry out lab experiments, Muslim Scholars maintained that as long as one does not touch pigs except with a barrier, such as gloves, or one washes his hands after touching them, it is permissible for education purposes.

Gelatine is a protein, which is obtained from collagen derived from animal skin and bones. Gelatine can be derived from either beef (bovine), pork (porcine), chicken (poultry) or fish (marine) sources.

Gelatine sources determine the status

gelatine derived from pork (porcine) raw material, it will always be deemed Haraam. If it is derived from fish (marine) sources, it will always be deemed Halaal. When derived from beef (bovine) or chicken (poultry), there is need to determine whether the raw material has come from a Halaal slaughtered source or not. Where the raw material is from a Halaal slaughtered source, it will be accepted as Halaal. If the raw material is from a non-Halaal slaughter source, it will be deemed Haraam.

Rulings on Gelatine

Ruling regarding Bovine gelatine, some Ulama contend that a drastic metamorphic change occurs in the non-Halaal animal material used in gelatine manufacture thereby rendering the mpure collagenous protein into Halaal gelatine.

While majority of the Ulama and International Halaal certification bodies (WHC) are of the view that such metamorphic change does NOT occur and therefore they do not accept this view and have adopted a very holistic position on gelatine and other such ingredients of non-Halaal animal origin used in food production.

HD's position on Gelatine

HD's holds the latter view and reiterate that it is not acceptable to use non-Halaal raw material in the manufacture of food products due to the fact that abundance of Halaal raw material is available and Muslims should not look for technical loopholes (metamorphosis etc.) to legitimise the use of raw materials sourced from Haraam animals in food production. Therefore, HD recommends that all products containing non-Halaal gelatine be avoided.
